

We just found out that our son has severe allergies & needs to have exposure to allergens avoided. So, we need to find a new home for our dogs.

Sammy is a 6-year-old terrier mix (probably Cairn/Skye). All of his shots & preventive medications are current. We adopted Sammy from a shelter when he was 2 & neutered at time of adoption. He was gotten as a second dog & gets along famously with Sasha. He is very affectionate & loves his cuddle time. He's had a hard time adjusting to the addition of our son. The ideal home for him would be one without children or with older children that can interact with him.

We've been trying for several weeks to find a home for Sammy on our own to no avail. If we can't find a home by the end of October, we will have to surrender him to a shelter. We do NOT want to resort to that for fear that he won't get adopted.
